

Editor's Introduction

We would like to welcome you back to the Journal of Research in Education. The last edition of the journal was published in Fall of 2018. Two new co-editors, Tracy Butler and Kristen McHenry, will be working to identify high quality scholarship in the realm of education and make it available to practitioners around the globe. Our first task has been to gather the award winning Eastern Educational Research Association (EERA) Conference papers from 2018 and 2019. We hope you enjoy this special edition.

We would like to thank George Watson - President of EERA, William Williams - Director of Communications for EERA, Zora Mackiewicz-Wolfe - previous editor of JRE, and for the authors of this special edition for their work, guidance, and patience in helping the newcomers take on these roles.
